MAJOR AND MINOR.

Edison, the inventor, although somewhat deaf, is passionately fond of music. We are informed that he does not play by note, but has a quick ear to catch popular opera airs. It is amusing to see him getting a tune out of his ivory keys. He looks very much as if he were at a telegraph key sending off a quick dispatch, and wanted to rattle the operator at the other end by his lightning rapidity. Sometimes he will play a piece with his forefinger only. It moves like a phantom finger, so hurriedly does it pass over the keys. He goes to the opera frequently, and immediately upon returning home, no matter how late the hour, he sits at the piano and rattles off some of the taking airs.

Minnie Hauk has arrived and made her reappearance at the Metropolitan Opera House, in "L'Africaine."

A WORD WITH YOU.

It is rather singular that amidst all our progress and vaunted desire for the latest, some few should have gone back forty years to grope. We refer to the so-called cheap and original editions of Webster's dictionary, which certain parties have been offering to the public as premiums, etc., or as a bait, as in the cases of some short-sighted business houses, but which failed in its purpose. It is in fact but a cheap reprint of the dictionary of near a half a century ago. All the vast improvements and most valuable additions since that period are found only in the edition still copyrighted and published by G. and C. Merriam & Co. of Springfield, Mass.; every copy bearing that firm's name and title, "Webster's International Dictionary." If two score years of research and constant revision and addition mean anything, over $300,000 having been spent in this book, then who would have the cheap reprint at any price! A word to the wise is sufficient and life is too short to be misled.

Stomach Troubles,

Such as indigestion and loss of appetite, are extremely common. The functions of the stomach being weakened, the blood soon becomes impure, the system loses vigor, and you fall an easy prey to any prevailing epidemic. What you need to restore tone to the digestive organs is Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the best and most economical of all blood-purifiers.

"For several years I was troubled with indigestion, accompanied with pains in my side. My appetite was poor, and my health was gradually failing. Medicine recommended to me by my friends, did not have the desired effect. Finally I was advised to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and have done so, with the most beneficial results. My appetite is now good, I am free from pain, and feel once more in good health."
—T. Loney, 32 Fairmount st., Cambridgeport, Mass.

Dyspepsia.

"During the summer and fall of 1887 I suffered very seriously from dyspepsia. Knowing the high standard of Ayer's medicines, I decided to try what Ayer's Sarsaparilla could do for me. It has helped me wonderfully. I regard the Sarsaparilla as invaluable in such cases."—James R. Williams, Delana, Ill.
"About a year ago I was greatly afflicted with indigestion, and suffered from headache and terrible pains in my stomach. I consulted a physician, who prescribed various remedies, but all to no purpose. I became worse instead of better, and was compelled to give up work. A friend finally advised me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I purchased a bottle, took it according to directions, and soon had the satisfaction of knowing that my health was improving. After taking two bottles of this medicine, I was able to resume work. My appetite returned, my food digested well, I was free from headache, and to-day I am as well as ever."—P. Dubé, Holyoke, Mass.

SYMPHONY CONCERT.

The last concert given by the Choral Symphony Society was one of the best of the season. The next concert, to be given on the 16th inst., will afford a special treat in Mr. Franz Rummel, the eminent soloist, who will play Beethoven's fifth concerto in E flat. For the concert to be given May the 12th, Charles Santley, the great English oratorio singer, has been engaged.

DEATH OF FRANK GRAY.

Frank Gray, the well-known violin repairer, died on the 20th ult. at his residence, 1408 Park Avenue, after a long illness. His death was due to chronic bronchitis. Mr. Gray was a pupil of one of the most celebrated violin makers in France, and spent some time in New York with Aug. Gemünder. Mr. Gray was greatly prized in his chosen walk of life and highly esteemed by all with whom he came in contact. His daughter, Agnes Gray, is the popular and well-known violinist. He was 66 years of age and a life of singular usefulness. His loss will be deeply felt.

THE CULTIVATION OF THE VOICE.

Everyone may not be blessed by nature with a pleasant voice; but almost every one can by endeavor attain something like it—the inspiration, the respiration, the modulation, the pitch. Some may be condemned even in the cradle to the tones which make you wish to clap your hands to your ears; but a vast number, if taken in time can be made to say the very least, not unpleasant, if not exactly delightful. It needs early training and constant care to bring about the metamorphosis. From the beginning the child should be allowed to produce no raucous tones, to indulge in no thick enunciation, to utter no slovenly slur of sound; the elders should soften their own voices when within the child's hearing, if at no other time, should open their own most flute-like stop, and should speak with slow gentleness and a precision not precise enough for affectation, but quite enough so for thorough distinctness and accuracy, and for every sound to be given its full value. A servant of rude tones should never be allowed about a child, nor any one else of a disagreeable habit of voice. Even the nightingales and canaries are taught by another bird of perfect throat; and if the bird learns thus by naturally taking the sound it hears, the child will do the same. A child once attuned by the hearing and neighborhood of sweet voices to take an agreeable pitch, and while the tone-producing organs are still flexible, can be corrected in any deviation from purity and pleasantness, till the deviation becomes all but impossible. This certainly is not achieved by a simple effort; it is to be done only by unremitting observation and unceasing correction. A harsh tone should be modified upon the spot, a coarse cry abandoned, a sharp one softened; modulations should be taught, giving the speaker a gamut on which to play and prevent monotony, for we all know how unendurable is either reading or speaking in one dull unvarying drone. It is often desirable, especially in the case of children who have had throat troubles and recurring catarrhal colds, to have them taught enunciation by a professional elocutionist; that is, the producing and managing of tone.

There is no young voice that cannot be improved by advice and training at the hands of one capable of giving both; this is eminently true during the first dozen years of life; but it is true, also, until close upon the thirtieth year. In the matter of singing voices, baritones have made for themselves tenor voices by slow determination and practice; sopranos have closed a lower and opened a higher register; and if such miraculous work as that has been done with the delicate and difficult singing voice, surely all that can be required of the speaking voice is possible every day, and all that is required is much less than anything of this sort. Many of the great orators of antiquity are known to have overcome serious defects of speech, either in delivery of the voice, as in Tully's case, or in articulation, as in the case of Demosthenes, and that when they were no longer children. —Harper's Bazar.

HARP PLAYING.

Harp playing is a very picturesque and artistic accomplishment, says a writer, which constantly finds new votaries. A pretty woman with a golden harp against her shoulder, her slender hand and supple wrist outlined against its strings, is so suggestive of cherubim and seraphim, of white wings, so enveloped in a misty atmosphere of saintliness and general loveliness that a man can't even think the profane things that he says boldly about the piano banger and violin scraper, even if no two strings are tuned in the same key. But harp playing is one of the most expensive luxuries a woman can indulge. The long-suffering pianoforte is as patient as a two-humped camel, and bears uncomplainingly the practice abuse heaped upon it, but a harp wears out easily, the whole mechanism going to pieces sometimes all at once, like the time-honored "one-hoss shay." The little Grecian, the cheapest of harps, costs $500; the "semigrand," the most popular variety, is usually $750, and the "grand" is sold as high as $1200. In addition it is very expensive to keep them in condition, their trim being affected by every change in the weather and having to be renewed at least every second year.

Hoffmann, the pianist and composer, is kept very busy at his music studio in the Emilie Building, at 904 Olive St. Mr. Hoffmann is an example of a hard-working and self-reliant man, and in a comparatively short time struck the high road to success. Mr. Hoffmann and his brother, Fred, Victor, will sail for Europe in June to visit their parents. They will return in September in time to resume teaching.

On Wednesday, April 8th, Miss Nellie Ripley was married to Rev. Edwin Wallace, of Aberdeen, South Dakota. This young lady has been for some years a pupil of Miss Nellie Strong, and has made during that time remarkable progress. She possesses unusual musical talent, and two weeks ago played at one of the Balmer & Weber soirées, the F sharp minor Concerto by Hiller, with great success. Her powerful touch, fire and nerve specially fitted her to give a brilliant interpretation to this beautiful composition. The good wishes of hosts of friends accompany her to her Western home.

MAJOR AND MINOR.

Walter Damrosch by personal effort, aided by his connections with wealthy families, has quietly succeeded in securing subscriptions to the amount of $50,000 for a season of concerts to take place at Carnegie's new Music Hall, which will be ready for occupancy next fall. It is proposed to give twelve subscription concerts on a grand scale and to repeat the programmes, probably on Sunday evenings, at popular prices of admission.

Rev. J. H. Wallfisch, who has been appointed Corresponding Secretary of the American Branch of the General Christian Saengerbund, is a thorough musician and a composer of rare ability. His songs have a wide circulation. He is a very active man, and thoroughly interested in his work. The 121st Psalm, sung by Miss Julia Vollmar at the dedication of the New Orphans' Home, Warrenton, Mo., and which was so highly praised, was from the fertile pen of this composer.

The annual entertainment of the "Willing Workers" of the Second Baptist church was throughout a success. Among the numbers, we noticed a performance of "Jolly Blacksmiths," by two little girls, Metta Ford and Hope Seannell. These children have only had respectively ten and seven months instruction. Five other little girls accompanied the "anvil chorus" with triangles and singing. The precision and accuracy with which this was done, evinced the thorough training of their teacher, Miss Katie E. Wright.

Genelli keeps the finest artists in free-hand pastel and oil work in the city, and makes life-size portraits for prices ranging from $5 to $100.
